

I feel the do not call lists protect my right to privacy. I am inundated daily with calls, emails & regular mail, both at home and work, that is unsolicited, unwanted and a major waste of my time and energy. The do not call list has eliminated many nuisance calls but not all. People have a right to advertise, but when you say no, it should be no! Phone solisitors call at all hours 7 days a week. I do not like to be rude to anyone, but I have hung up on more the one. The people in these jobs need to be retrained for jobs that do not annoy the general public.
